INDEX

TO THE

FORTY-SECOND VOLUME

OF THE

Weekly Entertainer.

A.

AERIAL voyage, account of a recent, 395.
Agriculture, on ſlovenly, 97.
Anagrams, 318, 418, 478. Anſwers to, 38, 478.
Anecdote relative to a carriage without horſes, 29. of the late Lord Cheſterfield, 76. of Johnſon, the honourable ſmuggler, 137. of a drill ſerjeant and a volunteer, 257. of Queen Caroline, 297. of Sir John Camois, 316. of a Britiſh ſailor, 361. a lottery one, 405. of Alderman Shaw and Mr. Sheridan, 416. of an impoſtor, who pretended to be a Welch clergyman, 497. of a caliph of Babylon, 517.
Anecdotes of Caractacus, 3. of Archbiſhop Mathewes, 112. of the late Lord Harrowby, 191. of the late Lord Orford, 321. of the ſciences allied to the mathematics, 335. of Kleiſt, the Thomſon, of Germany, 337. of Mr. Joſeph Strutt, 374. of the late William Woodfall, 414. of Matthew Prior, 436. of Bonaparte, 491.
Animals, inſtances of cruelty to, 290.
Armed nation, hints to an, 437.

B.

Batavians, on the cuſtoms of the ancient, 11.
Beattie, memoirs of the late learned and ingenious Dr. James, 431.
Beneficence rewarded, 243.
Bituminous wood, curious, 177.
Bloomfield, Nathaniel, memoirs of, 249.
Bones, on, 96.
Bon mots, 303, 393.
Boulton, life of the ingenious Mr. 30.
Briſtol, account of the ſchool for the indigent blind there, 32.
Butcher, the miſerly, 208.

C.

Calumny, on, 451.
Cape of Good Hope, account of the ſlaves there, 225.
Cavern, volcanic one at Maſſiac, 249.
Challenge, ſingular, 469.
Character, a ſingular.
Character of the Capoutan Pacha, 34.
Charades, 38, 98, 118, 138, 178, 198, 218, 238, 258, 278, 318, 338, 378, 398, 418, 458, 498, 518. Anſwers to, 78, 98, 118, 138, 198, 278, 298, 318, 358, 378, 398, 418, 458, 478, 498.
Chineſe almanack, 476.
Churches, dedication of, 377.
Cities, on the influence of great ones on the proſperity of countries, 494.
Conſtantinople, obſervations on its trade, 41.

Contented

Contented old woman, the, 141.
Copper-plates, on the diſcovery of, 397.
Courſing, account of ancient and modern, 321.
Criſis, ſerious thoughts on the preſent important, 313.
Crocodiles, M. Denon's account of them, 255.

D.

Damlow, Pierre, a dwarf, account of, 217.
Doddridge, Dr. letter from him to Mr. Jennings, 56.
Domeſtic infidelity, 308, 327.
Dwyer, hiſtory of that celebrated Iriſh rebel chief, 131.

E.

Emmett, account of the trial of Robert, for high treaſon, 264. particulars of his family, 292.
Engliſh miniſter, the works of an, 76.
Engliſh, the Ruſſian traveller Karamſin's obſervations on their attachment to domeſtic happineſs, 371. character of the Engliſh nation, by ditto, 381.
Enigmas, 18, 78, 138, 178, 258, 278, 338, 358, 478, 498. Anſwers to, 58, 318, 338, 398, 418, 458, 498, 516.
Erbach, ſketch of the monks of, 413.
Eſthonians and Livonians, character of, 296.

F.

Fall of the leaf, on the, 496.
Faſhions, ſketch of, 216, 293, 386.
Female duties, on the misfortunes which ariſe from the neglect of them, and the miſeries which reſult from a diſſipated life. 43.
Female employ, animadverſions on the innovators of, 441.
Filial piety, inſtances of, 256, 301.
Firſt of September, a cockney's account of the, 201.
Fiſhing eagle, account of the, 449.
Foſſils, curious, 457.
Fox, character of John, 496.
French, extracts from ſermons on the threatened invaſion by the, 181.
French galley ſlave, account of the eſcape of one, 337.
French invaſion, an ingenious foreigner's obſervations on the probability there is that the French can ſucceſsfully invade Great-Britain or Ireland, 4, 61.
French invaſion, on the preſent threat of, and the utility of the numerous volunteer corps, 304, 394.

G.

Greenwich penſioner, the, 105.

H.

Hamburgh, deſcription of, 472.
Hardinge, Judge, his excellent charge to the jury at Cardiff, 203.
Hares, remarkable circumſtances relative to, 77.
Hatfield, John, copy of the letter written by him a few days before his execution, 373.
Herring fiſhery, advantages derived by the Dutch from it, 430.
Hobart packet, narrative of the loſs of the, 187.
Hobbes, remarkable ſaying of his, 17.
Hole, Rev. Richard, ſketch of his character, 149.
Hour glaſſes in pulpits, 436.
Hudſon's river, ſketch of the ſcenery of, 449.
Humour, remarks on, 417.

I.

Intereſt, on, 353.
Invaſion of England, account of the different attempts made to effectuate it, 351.
Ireland, Mr. Gordon's narrative of the late rebellion there, 93, 101, 128, 146, 170, 193, 210, 232, 252, 281, 306, 332, 343, 366, 391, 407, 426, 445, 456, 465, 501.

J.

Jeruſalem, account of the holy places there, and in Judea, Galilee, &c. 21. Another account of the city of Jeruſalem, 110.

Land,

L.
Land, remarkable inſtance of its advance in price, 375.
Laplander's tent deſcribed, 117.
Life, reflections on the conduct of, 375.
Lollards, account of that ſect, 455.
London faſhions, 35, 490.
Louiſiana, topographical deſcription of, 387.

M.
Mad dog, remedy for the bite of a, 430.
Madrid, deſcription of, 1.
Margate hoy, the, 174.
Marriage cauſe, ſingular one tried in France, 348.
Marriage, the, an Italian tale, 401.
Maſtiff dog, curious inſtances of memory in one, 425.
Memory, remarkable inſtance of, 317.
Meteor, account of a remarkable, 49.
Middle-men, on, 236.
Mile-ſtones or poſts of conſiderable uſe in Sweden, 277.
Moira, Earl, his patriotic ſpeech, 183.
Monboddo, Lord, ſketch of his life and writings, 134.
Monmouth, memorandum relative to the Duke of, 264.

N.
Nature and human life, 97.
National fait, eſſay in vindication of a, 440.

O.
Officer, the unfortunate, 435.
O'Leary, memoirs of the late Rev. Arthur, 453.
Opoſſum, obſervations on a living, 143.

P.
Paine, Thomas, his own account of his narrow eſcapes from the guillotine, 424.
Pariſians, character of the, 16.
Pariſian modes of procuring a ſubſiſtence, 481.
Pepyſian library, particulars of the, 375.
Picture, the, a tale, 73.
Pilchard fiſhery, account of the, 113.
Poiſon uſed as a ſtratagem of war, 16.
Polite literature, remarks on, 526.
Political characters, a foreigner's opinion of the eminent Engliſh ones, 85.
Porcupine man, hiſtory of the, 241.
Potatoes, new method of propagating, 75.
Property, abſtract of the act impoſing a tax on, 27, 369.
Pruſſian generals, ſketch of, 317.

Q.
Quadrupeds, Mr. Warner's reflections on the ſituation of thoſe unfortunate ones who are employed to convey coal to Bath, 57.
Quakers, their yearly epiſtle, 70.
Queſtions, 177, 256, 257, 297, 317, 377, 457, 477. Anſwers to, 97, 217, 397.

R.
Rebuſes, 18, 38, 58, 78, 98, 118, 178, 198, 218, 298, 338, 358, 378, 498, 518. Anſwers to, 18, 58, 118, 178, 198, 218, 258, 278, 358, 378, 458, 518.
Reflections, 37, 77, 156, 216, 351, 416, 457.
Rein deer, account of their food, 77.
Religion, thoughts on, 217.
Remark, curious, 197.
Royal correſpondence between King George III. the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, and Mr. Addington, on the offer of military ſervice made by the Prince of Wales, 483, 505.
Royal oaths, 18.
Running match at Margate, the, 228.

S.
Sailor's marriage, the, 389.
Sceptre, account of the wreck of the, 247.
Seed, on the neceſſity of immerſing it in water, in times of drought, 94.
Senſibility, on, 144.
Slaves of the Cape of Good Hope, account of the, 354, 363.

Slavery, view of, among the Turks and Perſians, 36.
Smith, Sir W. S. particulars of his wonderful eſcape from France, 124.
Somerſet, Lady Caroline, inſcription in honour of her, 417.
Spaniard, account of one capable of bearing high degrees of heat, 214.
Spaniſh chaſſeurs & blood-hounds, deſcription of, 154.
St. Julien, ſtory of the Count, 81, 107, 121.
Stones, remarks on thoſe ſuppoſed to have dropped from the clouds, 257.
Swallow, account of the, 193.
Swiſs peaſants, deſcription of the, 93.

T.

Tintern Abbey, deſcription of, and its neighbourhood, 421.
Touſſaint Louverture, portrait of, 377.
Trials, intereſting, 47, 65, 151, 161, 265, 461.
Trinity audit ale, hiſtory of, 14.
Turkey, account of the manners and cuſtoms of, by the late Lady M. W. Montague, 221.

V.

Vauxhall, Karamſin's deſcription of, 352.
Verſes. Nathaniel Bloomfield's deſcription of his father, 19. a young gentleman's lines on his mother's birth-day, ibid. wit, ſenſe, love, ibid. farewell to England, by Miſs Shackleton, 20. on viewing a church, which was conſpicuous to two friends, tenderly attached to each other, ibid. on ſeeing my child ſmile in her ſleep, by T. Shoel, 39. on the recollections of youth, by the Rev. J. Bidlake, ibid. on the renewal of war, 40. the laſt adieu, by L. S. Temple, 59. on viſiting the tomb of Cunningham, by G. S. Carey, ibid. invocation to hope, 60. Mrs. John Hunter's addreſs to her daughter, on being ſeparated from her on her marriage, ibid. from a lover to his miſtreſs, on the effects of convivial ſociety, ibid. the poor cottagers, 79. on the death of a young gentleman who was unfortunately drowned, 80. the ſetting ſun, ibid. Iſabel, 99. on a roſe, ibid. written in a bower at Blackheath, 100. tranſlation of Horace's ode vi. book i. ibid. the haymakers, ibid. an anacreontic, ibid. on a charitable man, ibid. a loyal Corniſh ſong, 119. the funeral bell, ibid. on the birth-day of two young ladies, 120. ſimile, ibid. on friendſhip, by W. Cowper, Eſq. 139. on time, by Miſs Seward, 140. addreſs to Engliſhmen, 157. prologue to the Adelphi of Terence, by the late Rev. T. Hare, ibid. a king or conſul, a new ſong, 158. the glutton, a tale, 159. cloſe verſification of the prayer appointed to be read in all churches during the war, 160. on the renewal of war, 179. ode to echo, ibid. the caſt-away, by W. Cowper, Eſq. 180. the hour of love, ibid. to hope, ibid. various diſaſters prevented by the erection of turnpikes, 199. invitation to Woodbury Hill, by W. Holloway, 200. ſonnet to meditation, ibid. new loyal ſong, 219. to a violet, ibid. the Swiſs emigrant, ibid. on time, 220. imitated from Horace, ibid. epitaph, ibid. conſolatory addreſs, 238. addreſs to Britons, 239. the parſonage houſe, ibid. ſong, ibid. ode for Chriſtmas-day, by T. Shoel, 240. recollections of youth, ibid. coquetry corrected, ibid. on the threatened invaſion, 259. lines occaſioned by diſturbing a nightingale in a walk in the country, 259. to a ſcreech owl, by Miſs Thomaſine Dennis, ibid. the ſailor's dirge, 260. generoſity rewarded, ibid. label for a gin-bottle, ibid. on a lady who wept at a tale of diſtreſs, by W. Bedford, 279. epitaph on Henry Leverton, by Mr. Burney, ibid. inſcription for a column at Runnimede, ibid. the woodbine, 280. invocation to a red-red-breaſt, 299. ſolitude, an ode, ibid. addreſs to enterprize, 300. lines to a young lady in her illneſs, ibid. epigram, ibid. to the night-flowering cereus, 319. on the cloſe of autumn, by Mr. Dyer, ibid. on a portrait of the Princeſs Mary, by Peter Pindar, Eſq. 320. ode to my old ſhoes, ibid. Old Anna, by Mr. Pratt, 339. Adeline, 340. the falling leaf, a ſong, by J. Kenny, Eſq. ibid. hymn for the laſt faſt day, 359. on the death of Mr. Hoddinott, auctioneer, ibid. Old Thomas, by Mr. Kenny, ibid. epitaph, 360. the true Engliſh ſailor, a ballad, 379. on death, by A. Flowerdew, ibid. to futurity, by N. T. Carrington, 380. the ſtings of conſcience, ibid. autumnal excurſion, by N. T. Carrington, 399. ode to ſolitude, 400. addreſs to Laura, ibid. a loyal ſong, by Captain Morris, 419. the villain man, ſpoken by a mother to her infant daughter, ibid. on a piece of blank paper, 420. to Sybella, on her birth-day, ibid. epitaph on a linnet, ibid. elegiac farewell, ſuppoſed to be the addreſs of the late Mrs. Mullins, of Wells, to her family, 438. Old England, a new ſong, ibid. Nelſon's birth-day, a cantata, 439. Palemon's addreſs to the editor, 440. loyal ſongs, 440, 479. tranſlation of a Dutch epigram, ibid. to the ſwallow, 459. the ploughman's ditty, ibid. on my recovery from an illneſs, 460. the clock and the dial, ibid. roſy Hannah, ibid. on travelling from Marazion to Truro in the kittereen with three elegant young ladies, 479. lines addreſſed to my feelings, 480. on the uncertainty of the law, ibid. addreſs to the ſoldier hunters, 499. fall or conquer, a war ſong, 500. Henry and Emma, ibid. melancholy, ibid. carol for Chriſtmas-day, 519. lines by Mr. Barlow, ſpoken by him, at Weymouth, for the benefit of the ſufferers by the late fire at Lyme, 519. addreſs to ſleep, by J. Paſcal, 520.

Volunteer corps, attorney-general's opinion on two material clauſes of the act relative to them, 341. medical advice to them, 342, 444. abſtract of the return of their number, 514.

W.

Waſhington, deſcription of the city of, 7.

Watchman's noctuary, account of the, 177.

Watkinſon, Edward, hiſtory of, 205.

Welch, ſketch of their manners, 261.

Wight, deſcription of the iſle of, 224.

Wilſon, hiſtory of Iſabella, 285.

Wolcott, memoirs of Dr. 10.

Wool and woollens, addreſs to gentlemen intereſted in, by Dr. Brooke, 331.

Y.

Young woman at Bruſſels, remarkable generoſity of a, 294.